Siberians Drive on Russians' Rear;
Poles Win Vilna.

On page 7 is an authentic report of an interview with Lenin, high priest of Bolshevism, stating the aims and hopes of revolutionary rule in Russia.

The Russian bolsheviks have suffered singing defeats on three fronts from the hands of the Poles, Siberians, and Russo-allied forces in the Murmansk region. Polish forces have captured Vilna, an important railway center in Lithuania, and have pierced the Ukrainian front in the Lemberg sector.

Admiral Kolchak's Siberian army has advanced 150 miles on the Ural front and menaces the bolshevik forces in east, north, and south Russia.

In the Murmansk region Russian forces in co-operation with the allies have advanced twenty miles to within striking distance of Lake Onega.

LONDON, April 22.—The Siberian army of Admiral Kolchak's government, in making an advance of 150 miles in five weeks on the Ural front, has achieved a success which endangers the entire bolshevik position in eastern Russia.

According to advices from Omsk the Siberians are now within 100 miles of the Volga, the most important river of Russia, and the new successes on the river Kama, in the center of the 400 mile front, make untenable the bolshevik positions east of the Volga.

The bolshevik troops opposed to the allies in north Russia and those facing Gen. Denekin in south Russia are affected seriously by the advance.

Clear River of Bolsheviks. The bolsheviks had clung obstinately to Sarapul, southwest of Perm, and its capture, together with much war material, is looked upon at Omsk as an important success. Both banks of the Kama river, which joins the Volga near Kazan, have been cleared of bolsheviks for a distance of more than 200 miles.

A war office statement on the operations in north Russia says:

"Gen. Maynard, commanding the Murmansk forces, reports that in a recent offensive on Lake Vigozero the enemy lost ninety-eight killed and eighty-two taken prisoner. A train with retreating bolsheviks was badly damaged by shell fire. The capture included two field guns, five machine guns, and 7,900 shells."

Poles Capture Vilna.

The important city of Vilna has been recaptured by the bolsheviks, according to official admission in a Russian wireless dispatch. The Russian message reads:

"The enemy attacked with considerable forces in the Vilna region, pierced our lines, and occupied the town."

Break Ukraine Front.

PARIS, April 22.—Polish troops have captured the important railway centers of Baranovitchi and Novogrodek, south of Vilna, as well as Vilna itself, advised from Warsaw say. All the railway lines from Vilna south to Lida are in the hands of the Poles.

On the Lemberg sector the Poles are reported to have broken through the Ukrainian front.

PARIS, April 22.—Polish troops have captured the important railway centers of Baranovitchi and Novogrodek, south of Vilna, as well as Vilna itself, advised from Warsaw say. All the railway lines from Vilna south to Lida are in the hands of the Poles.

Yalta, capital of the old Russian empire of Vilna in Lithuania, recaptured from the bolsheviks, is an important military center and constituted a strong holding point for the Russian forces under the command of Grand Duke Nicholas.

Defeat Reds in Murmansk.

ARCHANGEL, April 21.—[By the Associated Press.]—Delayed—By an advance of approximately twenty miles southward over a road paralleling the Murmansk railroad line, about thirty miles to the east, Russian troops operating with the allied Murmansk force have reached a point within easy striking distance of Lake Onega, which is connected by a chain of lakes with Petrograd.

The enemy made a stand at Petrograd, and Yar, but was attacked, twenty-eight of the bolsheviks being

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington Bureau of The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.

This text of the league of nations covenant, as revised, and portions of the peace treaty were received by the state department today to be held for publication on the eve of the reception of the German plenipotentiaries at Versailles.

Responding to an inquiry as to the character of the reported defensive alliance he has entered into with England and France for the protection of France from any future attack by Germany, President Wilson in a message to the White House explained that he contemplated no action not in conformity with the fundamental principles of the league of nations. The alliance is said to be a stipulation separate from the peace treaty which the president will ask the senate to ratify also.

Senator Borah pronounced the proposed alliance a natural precaution on the part of France, indicating French doubts of the efficacy of the league of nations as a preventive of war.

Divorce totals in Illinois are more than four times as great as in New York in proportion to population, according to figures of the census bureau.

There were 139 divorces per 100,000 population in Illinois in 1918 as against 32 per 100,000 in New York. The percentage of increase has been steadily mounting in Illinois for each period of years for which statistics have been prepared. The rate of marriage increase has not been as great as that of divorce.

The report of the federal bureau of public roads shows that under the allotment plan adopted Illinois will have available on July 1 next $4,152,648 for building and improving roads. Illinois is among the leading states in scientific systematic road building, the report says.

The National American Woman

Suffrage association issued a state-

ing of presidential suffrage to Iowa

women completes a series of victories

in this year's legislatures which will make certain the passage of the federal woman's suffrage amendment at the coming special session of congress.

BY MAUDE MARTIN EVER.

Why, oh why did I leave that nice solid ground down there?

Of my own free will I chose to ride in the air. And I have never felt comfortable in a canoe.

Well, I wonder if my mother will make over my purple suit? At least all my hats become her. And my new truck, too.

I wish I had burned those letters.

I wonder if we are still going up.

That pilot SAID he was going to take me to the stockyards and Lincoln park.

I think it's safe to look overboard

now.

Oo-oo—never again!

Real Action Begins.

I've heard that a person can just climb down here in the what-is-it-call-it?

Cockpit? (An awful lurch to the left.)

"This is a spiral," called the pilot.

"Let's go home."

"No use; he can't hear me when I can't hear myself."

How long have we been up here? It must be hours.

I wonder if that man can turn around and keep on driving? If he should fall and make a signal that I want to go down to the ground.

O, heavens. I'll bet he thought I wanted some fancy tricks! (We loop.

Ye gods, I've parted from my very soul!

My stomach feels a million miles

I shut my eyes before we turned upside

I wish I had been more religious.

How small those buildings are—I do

Well, I'll look at the lake. I don't mind that at all. And I'm supposed to draw up here. Draw—I'll never draw again.

When I step on earth again, IF I ever get back, I'll be happy without a thing but something between me and the sky.

The sky, they can talk about bird-men all they like. The free, beautiful

Nothing to do but sit here. An avia-

I'd face a flock of crows if I could only get out and walk.

It doesn't seem as though we're moving. We aren't. He expects me to draw. O, how sick it makes me to look down!

Actually he's turning off the engine.

What's that he said?

"Am I sick?"

"No, no—Fine." (I'm a lovely liar)

Now he's off again and I didn't have time to tell him I've had enough.

Now what might that be—sideways?

—I'll sit up straight and keep my eyes shut tight. Centrifugal force that must be this. If I had to lean over, I'd fall.

gation that President Wilson remained away from the meeting Monday morning when Premiers Lloyd George, Clemenceau, and Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino discussed the London pact.

Make No Progress.

The meeting between the representatives of the three powers, it is understood, was extremely unsatisfactory, as Italy insisted that the London treaty should not be affected by her subsequent agreement to President Wilson's fourteen points and demanded the literal fulfillment of the promises made her previously.

The Italian delegates are not preparing to leave Paris, apparently believing that the allies will approach them with a compromise before peace is signed with Germany. However, the French, British, and American delegates show no signs of weakening and continue to advise the Italians of the meetings as if the Italian delegates had not bolted.

Fix Tyrol Frontier.

The Temps says that the new frontier between Italy and German Austria apparently has been definitely fixed as Italy demanded it and as France and Great Britain in 1915 promised it should run. The frontier will be drawn to the north of the Brenner pass in Tyrol.

The Brenner pass is the lowest of all the passes that traverse the main chain of the Alps. It is the shortest route between central Germany and Italy.

The United States transport George Washington will return to the United States with troops after repairs to its machinery, it was announced this afternoon. Hereafter the George Washington will run on an alternate schedule with the Leviathan and Mount Vernon, so that one of these steamers will always be at Brest, ready for the return of President Wilson when he arrives.

Lift Trade Blacklist.

The American economic council today authorized the announcement of the abolition of the blacklist, licensing and rationing systems as applied to neutrals, thereby crowning the consistent efforts of the American economic delegates since January for the removal of hampering wartime restrictions on trade. This decision will grant that freedom of imports and exports which the resumption of foreign commerce so urgently required by trade and industry in the United States and throughout the world has been almost impossible.

The announcement will be made simultaneously April 29 by the various governments involved. It will allow us shipments of raw materials and manufactures other than export commodities without license formalities to countries not including Germany and Bolshevik Russia.

FEW YANKS IN ITALY.

Washington, D. C., April 22.—Cable advises received by the war department today gave the following units as the only army organizations now in Italy:

12th military police battalion (stationed at Rome), one organization of the motor transport corps, 12th sales company unit, one quartermaster detachment, one quartermaster supply detachment.

The number of men included in the above units is not known here, a large number of casuals having embarked from the American forces to Italy.

PARIS, April 21.—[Delayed.]—Despite the semi-official American statement practically denying any military alliance between the two countries, attention put out an unofficial statement that the peace treaty terms will be enforced through a written agreement between the United States, Great Britain, and France. The statement says this provides that the moment the Germans break away from the military terms, like a prior conciliation of troops in the forbidding Rhine area, this will be an act of war against the three allies and both Britain and America will send armies to France's aid immediately.

JUGO-SLAVS VS. ITALIANS

Chicago Champions of Rival Claims at Peace Conference Present Their Arguments.

Two Chicago champions, one of the claims of the Jugo-Slavs, the other of the claims of Italy, which have clashed at the peace conference, have summarized their arguments in the following articles:

BY STEPHEN MALATO.

American citizens of Italian birth and Italian extraction, as well as Italians throughout the campaign, I can not, in justice to the Jugo-Slavs and to the Americans who have so unselfishly expressed their sympathy for the Jugo-Slavs, be held responsible for the determination and freedom of the Jugo-Slav people, not to mention the rights of the Jugo-Slav names, not to retract the baseless and the most unjust accusations made against the Jugo-Slav and their supporters.

It is the right of the Jugo-Slav people to be in compliance with the wish which it so clearly expressed through its vote in accordance with the principles of self-determination.

The principle of self-determination of the most clearly and repeatedly expressed ideals of President Wilson.

Those of us who have had the best opportunity of learning the real spirit of this country, do not believe America will fail to be a true support of her just claims. It is our clear view that people of this country fully realize that what Italy is asking for is only that which she is entitled to and which she has earned.

Suffered Great Handicaps.

Under the greatest handicaps, and at an unbelievable cost, the Italians have been struggling for unity and independence. The very dearness of that struggle has made to them most vital importance of the principles for which they struggled.

To them their principles are not of self-government are more dear than life itself. Can they now permit a large number of their countrymen to be deprived of that right?

Does any one dispute that Flume is overwhelmingly Italian in population, and that practically all of its cultural traits and customs are Italian? By what principle, then, shall Flume be forced to submit to the rule of Jugo-Slavia?

Repudiated Austrians.

What other country, in proportion to size and resources, has made her sacrifices or endured Italy's losses? How many hundreds of thousands of her noblest sons fell in that valiant defense of the Plain of Emilia? Flume is the result of the war, not of the two divisions of French and two divisions of English to aid the hard pressed Italians, counseled that the Plave be abandoned and a general retreat made.

But the Italian leaders well knew that this meant the surrender of a large portion of their country to the invaders and the consequent loss of millions of Americans for action against Germany.

This decision will grant that freedom of imports and exports which the resumption of foreign commerce so urgently required by trade and industry in the United States and throughout the world has been almost impossible.

The announcement will be made simultaneously April 29 by the various governments involved. It will allow us shipments of raw materials and manufactures other than export commodities to countries not including Germany and Bolshevik Russia.

NOT TO FIGHT WORLD.

Lieut. Bruno Rosselli of the Italian army has sent a telegram from Fort Montrouge, Paris, to the Italian government, stating that he and the Italian soldiers who believe as he does are ready to fight the "whole world" to vindicate Italy's aspirations. What he did say, Rosselli writes, was that they are ready to fight Jugo-Slavia.

We have no desire for quarrel with any, but to demand justice for Jugo-Slavia and respect for the millions of dead heroes who have given up their lives so that their kin may be united and live in freedom.

Cite German Claims.

In the same manner that our German annexations during the war do-not demand that what we shall demand at the peace parleys is self-determination, not self-mutilation.

'V' LOAN TOTAL $23,000,000 ON SECOND DAY HERE

City Adds $5,500,000,
but Day Runs Under Schedule.

With the blare and excitement of the first day's campaign past, Chicago yesterday plodded steadily onward toward its Victory loan goal of $189,000,000. When time was called at 6 o'clock last night it was estimated that a total of $23,000,000 had been pledged.

There was a minute's pause and then ward workers began where they had left off in their canvass, hotel and restaurant activities were geared to a high pitch, speakers grabbed a bite of lunch preparatory to the evening's campaign, and the race toward another twenty-four hour total was begun.

Division Report for Day.

With an estimated total of $17,500,000 with which to begin the day the loan organization had little difficulty in keeping up to the $9,461,250 every twenty-four hours necessary to success in the campaign. The stockyards division of the trade commission reported $4,775,500 late in the day, the central manufacturing district turned in $15,500,000, and $15,535,450 was turned in by the regular trades committee channels. Ward workers reported $450,000 in sales as the result of the few hours' work in the homes possible Monday evening.

Of the stockyards subscriptions $10,000,000 came from the men of the same amount from Swift & Co., $75,000 from H. C. stock commission houses, and horse and mule dealers and $400,000 each from Morris & Co., Wilson & Co., and the Union Stockyards and Transit company. These subscriptions do not include those of employees of the firms named, which will be reported later.

Rickenbacker Day.

An Chicago will have an opportunity to see and hear Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, America's premier ace, view the machine in which he brought down 500 planes at the front and acquire some of his trophies some time during the next three days. With a squadron of Victory loan flyers in the wake of his train the Illinois pilot will appear at 10:45 a.m. on Tuesday morning. After a reception by Mayor Thompson, representatives of the Automobile Trade association, Association of Commerce, Automobile club, and Aero club, he will parade through the loop at the head of a procession of 100 automobiles. The plane he used in his tour of the western front will be trailing behind an automobile in the parade.

Ward at Dinner.

Capt. Rickenbacker is to be the guest of honor at a dinner given by the Automobile Trade association at the Congress hotel in the evening and in the afternoon will visit the military hospital at Forty-seventh street and Drexel avenue, accompanied by a motorcycle cordon. Senator Medill McCormick and H. M. Bylesby will be among the other speakers at the dinner.

Victory will be Rickenbacker day. Victory Forum, in Grant Park, flyers will circle overhead and "bomb" the crowds with circulars as the famous ace pleads for subscriptions to the Victory loan. Friday night he will auction a trophy from the front, awarding it to the person taking the greatest amount of Victory notes.

Now begins the interest of the public in the loan, inaugurated yesterday at the Garrick theater with former Gov. A. O. Ehart of Minnesota as the speaker. Today's meeting is at the La Salle theater, with Lieut. R. M. Parkinson, an officer on the first sub-class to be torpedoed by a U-boat and Federal Judge Samuel Alschuler as the program.

Concerts at Forum.

There will be the usual band concerts at the Victory Forum at 2 and 8 p.m., exhibition drill, and firing of the naval armament at 12:30 p.m. at 8:30 p.m. illumination of Victory forum and jeweled altar of victory, program of patriotic and popular melodies by band; Armours' Girls' drum and bugle corps of fifty-two misses in program on stage.

10:30 p.m.—See illumination of jeweled altar by army searchlights at $75,000,000 candle power.

10:30 p.m.—Victory aerial pyrotechnics.

14 COLORED SOLDIERS' TRIAL DELAYED. At the request of Col. While I'm up here I ought to experience some of the thrills I've read about. The sky is lovely—gray, but how that horizon twists. Now which is the lake and which is the sky? O, those buildings again! I'll get used to them.

We must be on the north side. Yes,

with this ship I would certainly die tortured.

Yes, centrifugal force is keeping me yet alive and in this frightful torture.

What is a worse death than almost being seasick and still not quite?

CLOSER BOND OF COMMUNICATION HELP TO PEACE

Associated Press Manager Tells of Paris Observations.

New York, April 22.—Development of internationalization promises a chance that the bonds of nations may accomplish its object of insuring world peace, Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, recently returned from the peace conference, told the members of the association at their annual meeting and luncheon to-day.

By the modern processes of internationalization the nations are inevitably brought closer together, he said, extending men's visions and giving "a little promise" that the failure of the congress of Vienna 100 years ago might be followed "by something like success."

It was a mistake, Mr. Stone said, to imagine that there had been an unimportant difference between the peace envoys of the Associated Press who had brought to their task a sincere desire to solve a great problem. Despite the German hopes of differences among the conquerors, he added, they had agreed in principle.

Cites Effect in This Continent

In keeping with the Pan-American spirit of the meeting, inspired by the recent addition of twenty-five South American newspapers to the Associated Press membership, Mr. Stone gave assurance of the amity of the western hemisphere.

In like manner in earlier days, he said, the organization had been a material factor in cementing the relations of the northern and southern sections of the United States, a union which made possible the national spirit evidenced in the Spanish-American war and reemphasized in the world conflict.

Mr. Stone told of his personal experiences with Premiers Lloyd George, Clemenceau, Venizelos, and Hughes.

Referring to the peace conference and to affairs in Europe, Mr. Stone said:

Allies Agreed in Principle.

The Germans hoped that the associated powers would differ. It was the dream of the Germans that they could not agree. In principle, as Clemenceau, who is the type of the others, told me: "We are all one in all this business."

Now, I do not know whether a league of nations will work or not. I doubt if anybody knows. There is one thing that in this hour gives a little promise that their failure may be succeeded by something like success and that is intercommunication."

FREE OF CONTEMPT CHARGE.
Attorney Arthur Weinshenk was cleared of contempt of court charged yesterday by Judge Deems Hart in the Superior court. It was charged that he imposed on the court filing a "poor person" plea, which allowed him to sit out for a client without cost. He explained that the act was not done intentionally.

For nearly a quarter of a century this bank has had established connections with all the leading cities in the world. Our records show that for a long period previous to the great war, travelers' letters of credit, commercial letters of credit and checks issued by this bank, were negotiated daily in every city of any importance in the world. While many of our relations were dislocated during the war, they are daily becoming re-established and the bank is again enabled to give to its customers the benefits of its facilities in this department, which is now, and has been from the time of its inauguration, under the management of men trained and experienced in this line of banking. It offers its services to the public, with the assurance that its facilities are as good as the best.

"GLAD TO DIE FOR COUNTRY": EDITH CAVELL

London, April 22.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)— "I expected my sentence, I know now it is not enough to love only your own country. You must love all and not any."

These were among the last words of Edith Cavell, the British nurse who was executed by the Germans in Belgium. The churchman to whom they were spoken, the Rev. H. S. T. Gahan, has just returned to England from Brussels, where, with his wife, he remained throughout the war.

With the chaplain, Mr. Gahan received permission, he says, to see Miss Cavell in prison on the night before the death sentence was executed.

"With the chaplain," Mr. Gahan said, "I went to the cell door and it opened and Miss Cavell stood in the doorway. She was a great presence, looking serene. There stood my friend, looking as sound and sweet as any one could look."

She was unchanged except that she appeared better for the enforced rest in prison. The warden withdrew and we were not interrupted.

"She was as sweet as all she said. She was thanked for the time she had been here. I have been a burden and a curse in many respects. She was not sorry to go, for her life had contained so much trial that she was weary beyond endurance. They have treated me very kindly here," she said.

"I felt," the minister continued, "that I must have been a burden to her. I had been there an hour. I stood up and said, 'Good-by, and we were face to face. She was looking slightly strained, but nothing more."

ANSELL CALLS ENLISTED MAN CASTE VICTIM

Washington, D. C., April 22.—Lieut. Col. Ansell, former acting judge advocate general, continued today his attack upon the army system of justice before the investigating committee of the American Bar association. He reiterated his assertion that the existing system was derived from days when "common soldiers" were the vassals of the king and failed to recognize the soldiers as citizens of the state. He declared it was the natural result of such a system that an officer caste had been built up.

Mrs. Vincent of 1462 Wilson avenue described the visit of an inspector, who called at her residence April 8 to inspect the fixtures, and she said, remarked: "I'm from the utilities commission. I was with the gas company, but I'm with the commission now."

Mr. Vincent had requested the inspection of the fixtures, which had been repaired from $6 to $10 for three months.

Mrs. Martha Hart, 1334 Washington boulevard, and Mrs. J. E. Dement, 3911 Congress street, identified Charles E. Luddington as an inspector who had claimed employment by the utilities commission.

GAS INSPECTORS POSE AS STATE AGENTS, CHARGE

Charges that inspectors for the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company camouflaged themselves as "employees of the state public utilities commission" were aired when Commissioner Frank H. Funk resumed the hearing of the company's application for an increased rate yesterday.

Miss Martha Hart, 1334 Washington boulevard, and Mrs. J. E. Dement, 3911 Congress street, identified Charles E. Luddington as an inspector who had claimed employment by the utilities commission.

Spartacists lose in Bavaria.

LONDON, April 22.—An attack on Munich by Wurtemberg troops, launched under cover of artillery fire from all around the city, is reported in a Geneva dispatch forwarded by the Exchange Telegraph correspondent in Berlin.

The military situation in Bavaria is improving, according to announcements made by the Hoffman ministry.

The Spartacists, who took Dachau, ten miles northwest of Munich, have been repulsed, and government forces are now holding the place.

Lieut. Gen. Eugene Karlovitch Miller, head of the Archangel government, told the Associated Press today that he is absolutely opposed to the plan of Gen. Fratelloff Nani for feeding Russia.

Other officials on all hands express similar views. Gen. Miller said: "The proposition to feed the enemies means when we are in a position of victory, and it is entirely outside the question to think that we should be cowering in order to permit provisions to reach our enemies."

Additional American prisoners in Russia have been released. ## THE MILITARY SITUATION IN RUSSIA

The new advance of the Siberian army of Admiral Kolchak on the river Kama toward Kazan makes a gain of 150 miles in five weeks, and brings them within 100 miles of Volga river. The Kama river advance is in the center of a 400 mile front and endangers the Bolshevik position east of the Volga. Both banks of the river have been cleared for a distance of more than 200 miles. At the capture of Saratov, 2,500 prisoners, 200 railroad cars, and twenty-six guns and ammunition were captured. Saratov, southwest of Perm, was taken by Kolchak forces. Much war material and a number of Bolshevik leaders were captured.

The Bolshevik troops facing Gen. Denikin in south Russia are reported to be badly demoralized as a result of the advance of the Kolchak forces toward the Volga.

Reports from Sebastopol via Sotomki indicate that the Bolsheviks have not been able to follow up their recent victory in the Crimea.

Gen. Petura, the Ukrainian peasant leader, is fighting on two fronts. He is gaining against the Bolsheviks but losing against the Poles.

The Poles are reported to have broken through the Ukrainian front in the Lemberg sector.

Vilna has been captured by the Poles. The railway from Vilna south to Lida is in the hands of the Poles.

Russian troops operating with the allies on the Murmansk front have advanced within striking distance of Lake Onega. Vojnoslava, thirty miles east of Urosodero, was captured and the reds pursued towards Povolozhsk. The allies are now ten miles south of Urosodero, on the Murmansk railroad.

TRIBUNE'S CIVIL WAR CITY EDITOR IS 88 TODAY

To Prof. Elias Colbert, 501 Grove

land Park, today—the anniversary of the birth of Stephen A. Douglas—has two meanings. Besides recalling memories of the "Little Giant" it marks

the eighty-eighth year since Prof.

Colbert's own life. Douglas was an inmate friend of Prof. Colbert, who cherishes among his souvenirs a walking stick of apple wood presented to him by the then statesman and political opponent of Abraham Lincoln.

Prof. Colbert was city editor of The TRIBUNE in those epoch marking days.

While he was extremely active in newspaper work he found time to develop a hobby for astronomy and fifty years ago became professor of astronomy at Chicago university. During those days he wrote "Astronomy Without a Textbook," which was adopted as text for use in the Chicago public high schools. His brochure on Shakespeare, which ran through several editions, is familiar to students of English literature.

Prof. Colbert came to Chicago in 1857 and became a reporter. He was for a period employed on the Times and later on The TRIBUNE. From a reporter

he was promoted to city editor, later becoming commercial editor and editorial writer. In the days following the civil war he furnished the editorial columns with many stirring articles.

MAKE ALL MONEY WORTHLESS, IS LENINE'S PLAN

Bolshevism to End World
Financial Debauch, He Tells Interviewer.

(Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
(Copyright: 1919.)

GENEVA, April 22.—It is possible to send the authentic notes of an interview with Nikolai Lenin, the high priest of bolshevism, which were communicated to Geneva by a recent visitor to Moscow.

Lenine has aged since his advent to power. There are gray threads in his short black beard and his naturally high forehead is made to appear still higher through baldness.

NIKOLAI LENINE. He speaks with calm deliberation, using the simplest phrases. His voice and manner are authoritative. He sweeps aside all arguments and objections, inexorably pursuing the thought in his mind. There is a gleam of hard-fisted intelligence in his eyes.

Has Convinced People.

According to the minute notes made by my informant, Lenin explained his policy in the following terms:

"The first aim of every political party must be to convince the majority of people that its program is right. Its task, although far from being absolutely achieved, is now in a great measure solved, for the majority of urban workers and peasants today sincerely adhere to the principles of bolshevism.

"The second problem is the conquest of political power and the suppression of resistance on the part of the capitalist classes. This problem could only be solved by the revolution, which is now in progress, and the proletariat which consists, so to speak, in a permanent state of war against the bourgeois people who practice 'acts of terrorism' committed by the communists entirely forgetting what terms the dictatorship of.

"The third problem is the annihilation of the power of money in the world. He outlined his plan on this subject thus:

"Hundreds of thousands of rubles are being issued daily by our government. This is not in order to fill the coffers of the state with practically worthless paper but with the deliberate intention of destroying the use of money as a means of payment. There is no justification for the existence of money in the bolshevik state, and the qualities of life shall be had for work alone. Experience has taught us it is impossible to root out the evils of capitalism merely by confiscation and expropriation, for, however ruthlessly such measures may be applied, astute speakers and obstinate survivors of the capitalist classes will always manage to evade them and continue to corrupt the life of the community.

"The simplest way to exterminate the very spirit of capitalism is, therefore, to stamp out the currency of a high face value without financial guarantees of any sort. Already even the 100 ruble note is almost valueless in Russia. Soon even the simplest peasant will realize it is only a scrap of paper worth more than the rags from which it is made. Men will cease to covet and hoard it as they discover it will not buy anything, and the great illusion of the value and power of money, on which the capitalist state is based, will have been definitely destroyed."

"This is the real reason why our presses are printing more bills day by day without rest, but this simple process must, like all the measures of bolshevism, be applied all over the world in order to render it effective. Irritation of the frantic financial debauch in which all governments have indulged during the war has paved the way everywhere for its application."

His Plan of World Conquest.

Questioned concerning the plans of world conquest entertained by the bolsheviks, Lenin replied:

"The communist state cannot exist in a world of capitalist states. This is politically and economically impossible. The communist state must either convert the capitalist state to communism or succumb itself to capitalism. An apparent compromise between the two is conceivable for a short time, but it can never be real and lasting. They exclude each other mutually."

"But it is with ideas, not with arms, that we shall conquer the world. Capitalism carries on more effective propaganda for us among the masses than we ourselves could ever hope to achieve by our own efforts. The international profiteer is the best propagandist. It is true we owe much to the war, but I don't fear peace, for the incurable avidity and corruption of the capitalist class will serve it and paralyze its healing efforts."

Capitalist Lust Survives War.

"The cost of living, instead of diminishing, is still increasing steadily in most countries. The lust of gain of international exploiters, bourgeois financiers, manufacturers, and tradesmen is unquenchable and they are conspiring to prevent the return of normal conditions, totally unconscious of the fact that they are preparing their own destruction."

The visitor's observation that the bolsheviks are nevertheless now inviting the bourgeois classes in Russia to participate in the administration of the soviet republic, Lenin replied:

"The transformation of the capitalist state into the communist state is impossible without the assistance of scientific and technical experts."

"Inevitably these experts are today bourgeois. We have, therefore, been forced to adopt bourgeois methods and to secure the services of the most competent bourgeois specialists by paying them high salaries."

"It is evident this measure represents a departure from the principles proclaimed by the Paris communists which established that all salaries without exception shall be reduced to the level of the ordinary workman's wages."

"To a certain extent the employment of bourgeois specialists may even be said to signify a truce in the midst of our offensive against capitalism and a retrograde movement on the part of the Soviet socialist republic, which from the first had promised and already carried out the leveling of high salaries in accordance with the principles of the Paris communists. However, it is but a truce, inevitable in a period of transition."

Lenine entertains vast and partly secret plans, in the conception of which he has been influenced by Confucius, whose works are at present his favorite study.

Agriculture for Russia.

"Russia's economic part in the future life of communistic Europe," he declares, "must be based on the development of agriculture, the enormous wealth of which can largely contribute to the prosperity of mankind and which, according to the Russian and other countries the development of industries will supply the needs of the international soviet community, but Russia will produce the workers' daily bread."

"In order to intensify agricultural production in Russia it is necessary to employ scientific methods on a large scale. Special attention is being given at present to the manufacture of agricultural machinery. Numerous new plants have recently been constructed and are running satisfactorily, some of them under the direction of foreign specialists."

"It is a fact that several foreign firms which had established branches in Russia before the revolution are at present overwhelmed with orders for agricultural machines and implements by the soviet rulers."

Aware of His Power.

Such are Lenin's opinions consciously recorded. It is evident that in expressing them he was fully aware he is himself a powerful and dangerous man; nevertheless, some of his remarks are sufficiently frank and illustrative of the sinister form of moral insanity which distinguishes the bolshevist mind to be a terrible warning to western Europe.

Five Britons Are Killed
When Huge Plane Falls

ANDOVER, England, April 22.—Five members of the crew of a big Handley-Page airplane were burned to death early today when the machine crashed to the earth as the result of an accident at the airfield at Neyhill, near here. The two others in the machine were injured severely.

SEEING THE LEAGUE FIRST.

Developments in Paris indicate rather strongly that of the various nations involved, at least two emitting here the obvious mention of Britain's navy and France's army—two, that is to say Japan and Italy, "saw the league of nations first."

Already we have had thrust before us the possibility of intra-league hostilities between Jugo-Slavia and Italy. Should the contention over Fiume develop into war, and, for example, the defeat of the Slavs, where next does the cry of irredenta lead us?

Italy takes comfort out of the London agreement; a pre-war agreement, of course. But no less comfort is being taken by Japan out of a similar engagement relating to Shantung peninsula and the Chinese districts formerly held by Germany.

In both of these instances the claimants want what they want in spite of any idealistic project to the contrary. They are idealists up to the point where it begins to pinch them. And so are we all; because when the league began to pinch the Monroe doctrine, we cried out in alarm, and a very proper alarm it was.

Perhaps Italy didn't see the league coming; Japan did. In February, 1917, when the prospect of American entrance into the war became apparent, Viscount Ishii with enviable alacrity took his pen in hand and claimed the Pacific islands and Shantung; to this Britain agreed.

What had this to do with the league of nations? Nothing at all, save that China could not be kept out of it any longer, and China, as a member of the league, would inevitably protect its sovereignty at least; there was no idea of new territory in the Chinese mind. Japan knew that with Chinese sovereignty protected there would be small chance of annexing Shantung. So, before there was any talk of the peace conference which must surely come, Ishii hung up the motto "Do it now."

We come to the old saw of the chain and its weakest link. The league will be no stronger than the desire of its members to make it strong. Italy dwells upon an agreement with France, England, and Russia. Japan finds security in an agreement with Britain to divide up the Pacific Islands, Shantung and Kiao Chau to Japan. Shantung is Chinese territory. Japan always knew it was held by Germany under duress. China is a member of the league. Yet the league fails—the prospect of standing by to see one of its members amputate territory from another.

If Italy gets its irredenta and Japan forecloses on Shantung, where does China get off, not having seen the league in time?

ORGANIZING THE COUNCIL.

From Florida dispatches we learn that the organizing committee of the Chicago city council has decided not to replace the men who have previously held the chairmanships of important committees. These men have had long experience in committee work, and for the most part they represent the ablest material in the council.

We can imagine that if for partisan or corrupt purposes they were removed whatever good name the city council has attained would be seriously imperiled. It may be urged that new councilmen might infuse more vigor into committee proceedings, but we think that whatever might be gained in that score would be more than offset by the mistakes and confusion that grow out of inexperience. The new adherents have a better opportunity to make their influence felt as committee members than as chairmen.

The council committees will have many opportunities to serve Chicago in the next few months and these chairmen who are to be reappointed can make splendid reputations for themselves.

THEFTS ON THE RAILROADS.

A number of criticisms have come to THE TRIBUNE of the theft of goods in transit, both in freight and express, and further complaints that the railroad administration and express companies do not pay the damages or even answer the correspondence concerning them.

THE TRIBUNE wishes to hear from its readers whether this condition is widespread. If so, it will find a department to assist shippers in the recovery of stolen articles, similar to its other departments, the Friend of the People, the Legal Friend of the People, the Friend of the Insured, etc.

PROTECTING WOMEN WORKERS.

A special commission appointed by Gov. Lowden interviewed a number of physicians with respect to working hours for women. The majority was of the opinion that the eight hour day ought to be the normal standard. They held that a longer day tended to increase accidents and was usually harmful to a woman's health.

Many manufacturers in this state have already established the eight hour day for women. A large percentage report that production has not been diminished through this change, and some of them frankly state that they get better results out of the new system than the old.

Nevertheless there are certain employers' organizations which are fighting the proposed bill to establish eight hours as the working day for women. Back of their opposition seems to be a fear that if the legislature establishes this precedent the eight hour law will be extended to include men as well as women.

But the case of women in industry ought to be regarded in a different light from that of men. The man can work longer than eight hours without suffering any material injury, while the health of a woman who did the same amount of work might be seriously impaired. Even among barbarous races the women were not required to perform the most dangerous and arduous tasks.

The present Illinois law permits a seventy hour working week for women. Illinois is the most backward in this respect of all states that have established a working day. From all the evidence it would seem that Illinois should no longer tolerate a ten hour day for women.

CONSTABULARY FOR ILLINOIS.

In the report of the Pennsylvania state police for 1918 it is shown that more than 10,000 arrests were made and that 914 per cent of these arrests led to conviction. This is a gauge of what may be expected from an efficient state police force in Illinois.

Thoughtful citizens will perceive in the constabulary bill proposed by Senator Dunlap a real relief for the farmers and the residents in small towns and cities. It is not suggested that all the 10,000 arrests made by the state police in Pennsylvania would not have been made had there been no such state police. But it is fair to assume that a large percentage of these arrests represents crimes committed which, had there been no police, would have gone unpunished for lack of a detecting agency.

The state policemen not only are detectors of crime, but the mere fact of their presence and activity is a deterrent to a large class of miscreants. The number of hoodlums would instantly decrease when it becomes known that the village or township constable is reinforced by a power that is not subject to local influences. Robberies in small communities instead of being of daily occurrence and increasing violence would not be prosperous undertakings with the state roads guarded and systems of communication established whereby officers everywhere would be on the lookout for escaping automobile bandits.

The larger cities are well equipped with police men who are compelled to pass qualifying examinations and show their fitness. This is not so in smaller communities, where there is no qualification for the post of town marshal or of township constable. Nor is this a reflection upon the marshals and constables. It is only a suggestion that in nearly every case the line fits the accident. Or, as Shakespeare would have advised, "Suit the accident to the word."

PERHAPS you remember the performance of

"Hamlet" which Forbes Robertson gave here some three years ago, when the scene shifters, started by a Tchaikovsky fanfare of trumpets, struck the scene and ruined the play temporarily.

As the battlements rose in air, disclosing a group of men in shirtsleeves, Horatio spoke the line,

"What doth this mean, my lord?" Discussing similar contempts, Mr. Dippel once observed that in nearly every case the line fits the accident.

A KINDLY disposed reader counted up the votes

THESE are the only need to keep the polls open longer.

The latest returns show the usual preponderance

HUSBAND TO GRIN NO MORE AT HIS BARGAIN HUNTER

But the Luxury Tax Won't Be So Bad, After All, Claim.

BY LUCY CALHOUN.

Bargains? Yes, of course the women still like 'em. There is still the same excitement in hunting down the "3.95" blouse knocked down from $4, but whether the feminine instinct for a bargain will have any real tendency to defeat the purpose of the new government luxury tax which goes into effect May 1 is a question open to debate.

F. D. Conley, merchandise manager for Marshall Field & Co., says he doesn't think the bargain hunters will hurt the government any.

"Business is good at present," he said yesterday, "and it is particularly good in those lines of goods which are to be affected by the luxury tax. But that is not true with the coming of spring, and I do not believe it indicates a wish to avoid the tax."

As a matter of fact, the tax is so small that, while in the aggregate, it will mean much to the government, it will not burden the individual very heavily.

For example, a hat which costs $15.50 will bear a tax of 10 per cent on the 50 cents, $15 being the dead line for untaxable millinery. That will make the hat come to only 5 cents more than before the tax was imposed.

A woman who can afford a $15.50 hat will not hesitate over an added 5 cents.

D. F. Kelly of Mandel Brothers takes the opposite view and believes many women will hasten to do their shopping early.

"It is too early to tell definitely," he said. "The lists of taxable articles have just been made public, but I believe women will begin to buy their fine silk hose and other of the more expensive goods in bigger quantities from now to May 1."

Plan to List Two Prices.

Elmer Stevens of Charles Stevens & Bros., which deals exclusively in women's wearing apparel, said he thought the tax was too small for any one to bother about except the department stores which will have to gear up and ticket their goods accordingly. The taxable goods are to be ticketed in most of the stores with two prices—the original price of the goods and the added war tax—but that a customer may see at a glance what she is paying to Uncle Sam and what to the dealer.

Here are some of the luxuries which after May 1 will bear a 10 per cent tax on every penny over the stated sums:

Big Tax on Toilet Goods.

As hats, the government seems to realize the necessity of a good hat for a woman. Men are taxed for their millinery on anything over $5, while women may spend as high as $15 without being hit. Toilet articles, however, are taxed 1 cent for each 25 cents or fraction thereof. Bathing suits are also taxed, considered as of a necessity than sleeping suits, as there is no special tax given for them, and pajamas will cost 10 per cent more on anything over $5—that is, 10 per cent of the excess. There are some exemptions in the matter of shoes. Persons with deformed feet whose shoes have to be made especially for them may go over the $10 mark without penalty.

Suicide while temporarily insane was the verdict of a coroner's jury on the death of Mrs. Winnifred Just, teacher of dramatic arts and occasional lecturer at the University of Chicago, who left her home at 304 Kenwood Avenue Monday and was found dead in the Kenwood park lagoon.

BURNED TO DEATH Little Girl's Dress Catches Fire from Furnace.

NEW TAX FIXES UNCLE SAM'S EYE ON CHILD LABOR

Washington, D. C., April 22.—Federal supervision of child labor, abolished when the Supreme Court last year declared unconstitutional the existing child labor law, was reestablished to-day under regulations issued by the international revenue bureau putting into effect the new revenue act's tax on child labor products.

The regulations interpret various provisions of the law, which levies a tax of 10 per cent on net profits of any concern employing children under the specified ages. After April 28, when the new act becomes fully effective, the tax will be assessed on the profits of any mine or quarry in which children under 16 years of age are employed or any mill, cannery, workshop, or factory in which children under 14 years are employed at any time of the year. Boys and girls' cannery clubs recognized by the department of agriculture are exempted.

A child labor tax division with a force of inspectors will be organized in the international revenue bureau to administer the new law.

The law provides that in none of the industries within scope of the law children within the age limits may work more than eight hours a day or more than six days a week or before 6 a. m. or after 7 p. m. without assessment of the tax.

ELSIE PLAZAK.

Elsie Plazak, 5 years old, 3008 South Homan avenue, died in St. Anthony's hospital yesterday of burns suffered in the day, when her dress caught fire. The child had gone to the basement with her mother, Mrs. Bertha Plazak, while the latter attended the furnace. Telling the child not to go near the furnace, the mother carried some ashes out. A few minutes later the little girl came running out shouting that her clothing was ablaze. She was seized and rolled upon the grass, but her clothing was burned entirely off.

GOVERNOR AND

San Francisco, Cal., April 22.—T. Hazegawa, governor general, and I. Yamakata, vice consul general of Corea, have tendered their resignations because of the revolutionary disturbances in that country, according to a dispatch from Tokio printed in the Japanese American here yesterday.

Mr. Hazegawa and Mr. Yamakata did not wish to accept responsibility for the disturbances, according to an announcement of the American. Yamakata is the son of Prince Yamakata, one of the elder statesmen of Japan.

YOUNGEST BLACK HANDED, 14, GUM FIGHT'S RESULT

girl Aid, 13, Absolved of Blame; "Will Blow Up Store," Threat.

A 14 year old messenger boy wrote "Black Hand" letter to Ellis Bland, owner of a grocery at 1401 Ashland avenue, demanding $250, and containing the threat of blowing up the store with a bomb if the money were not paid. Bland, fearing his family in danger, turned the mysterious letter to the Maxwell street police. Benjamin Ganson, a former Postal Telegraph messenger boy, 1417 Ashland avenue, wrote the letter. His alibi, who, the police say, was innocent of any intentional wrongdoing, is a 13 year old girl. On April 7 a girl delivered the letter to Bland. "I met a man down the street," she told Bland. "He gave me this and told me to give it to you." She handed Bland the letter.

Girl Confesses.

The boy was arrested at 1401 Ashland by the girl, who is known as Bland and identified as bearer of themissive. According to Probation Officer John Doody, she first tried to shield Ganson. The letter, neatly typewritten, was exhibited as evidence against Ganson. The Juvenile court yesterday. In just letters it was neared "BLACK AND WHITE." The words are underscored. It read:

"Mr. Bland: We want $250 in your back yard wrapped in paper with a lock over the money lying on the floor of your woodshed. If you do not pay our rules we will BLOW UP YOUR HOME BY putting a bomb under your store. We at this money right now." The letter was signed "A. I. E."

detectives found the boy delivering grams. He denied knowledge of letter. Then he was locked up and this morning made a complete confession.

Bland threw me out of his store and I had an argument with him at the price of some gum. I was a little bit angry and wanted to even with him," he said.

he Ganson boy has been in trouble with the Juvenile officers before. He arrested once on a theft charge. Judge Arnold said the boy was the youngest "blackmailer" that ever before him. The case was concluded until May 8.

He said the boy has been at detention home.

WORLD HEALTH,
CLEAN CITY, IN
WEEK OF MAY 11

Support Is Given
Project Decreed by Legislature.

Our spirited citizens and civic, social, trade, public improvement and women's organizations are giving their support in making the promotion week, decreed by the legislature to be May 11 to 17, inclusive, a success at a meeting yesterday in city council chambers. Between 1,000 and 200 persons were present, with Commissioner John Dill Robertson presiding.

Address to the promotion of the week and cleanup week in former years was made in three hours of speech at the end of which officers of permanent organization and a committee on organization for the following of decrees were elected.

John Dill Robertson addressed the meeting of the health department's disease control committee, which is carrying on its campaign for pure air and pure milk, and cleaner air, cleaner streets, alleys are now needed.

Commissioner of Public Works Frank J. O'Farrell at the Chicago bureau of efficiency for its recommendation that the bureau of streets appropriate a sum that year be cut from $1,000,000 to $1,000 to show that Chicago is spending less per square mile than any large city in the country for cleaning. Chicago spends $472 per square mile, while New York is $2,000, Philadelphia $2,200, and Boston $1,800.

The bureau's scheme would mean a saving of $1,000.

"Chicago is the less healthy city and disease there will be," Dr. Pusey.

"I purpose to have physicians and sanitation experts speak in the cities during the week.

"I promise you the aid of the schools and school children," said Superintendent Channing. "We will see to it that the schools are cleaned up and that the school children are a little bit toward cleaning up streets, yards, and alleys."

THREE AMERICAN PLANES TO TRY ATLANTIC FLIGHT

Washington, D. C., April 22.—Three naval seaplanes, the NC-1, NC-3, and NC-4, will attempt the flight across the Atlantic ocean. They will leave Rockaway Beach early next month, but, so far as is known now, no decision has been reached as to whether the route will be direct from Newfoundland to Ireland or via the Azores.

Each plane is expected to carry a crew of three and be driven by four Liberty motors of a total of 1,600 horsepower, and will carry sufficient gasoline to make a stop on a direct flight to Ireland unnecessary unless storms or strong head winds are encountered.

The wings of the NC-1 were damaged severely when the craft was driven ashore at Rockaway in a storm, but they will be replaced by those on the heavier NC-2.

Test U. S. Navy Plane.

New York, April 22.—In two hard tryouts off Rockaway Point today the giant seaplane NC-2 proved its worth, responding readily to every movement it was called on to make in a total of three flights.

Even passengers were carried in the afternoon flight. The machine met

all requirements for a lifting capacity of 28,500 pounds, including its own weight of 15,000 pounds.

In the morning flight of an hour and a half the plane carried ten passengers.

Rear Adm. James H. Glennon, commanding the third naval district, made a trip to the Rockaway station in the afternoon and was present when the NC-2 returned from its second flight.

TRADING UNION PLANNED TO AID MIDDLE WEST

Embargo on U. S. Goods
by British and French
Is Predicted.

Representatives of cities of the Mississippi Valley from New Orleans to Minneapolis met yesterday afternoon at the Chicago Association of Commerce and laid preliminary plans for the convention which is to open this morning. Almost all had business problems to present which, they agreed, could be solved only by united action.

"It is almost tragic," said John M. Parker, president of the Mississippi Valley Association, "to see this valley, which is one of the great manufacturing and agricultural regions in the world, almost entirely dependent upon the facilities of one port, which is not well located for the best development of export business."

Would Supply Own Finance.

"Almost at our doors, from the gulf ports, we have countries with which an extremely profitable reciprocal business can be built."

"The possibilities for developing the business of the valley are enormous, but it will take united action, whole-souled team work, to handle the problems in this connection. No one man and no single organization can do this."

Hugh Humphreys of Memphis, Tenn., said:

"The English and French are likely to have embargoes for years to come to keep out all of our goods that they can make themselves, so we will have to look to other parts of the world for our foreign trade."

R. D. Bowen of Paris, Tex., urged that every effort be made for the development of the United States merchant marine.

England Bitter Rival.

"England will leave no stone unturned in her effort to choke off our merchant marine," said Mr. Bowen. "Our ships must be controlled physics. Our ships must be controlled by firms that are 100 per cent American. This has not been done in the past. New York has the advantage of a lower rate of freight, though the port is often longer. We ought to have the advantage of a lower rate."

The regular session of the Mississippi Valley Association's convention will open on the ninth floor of the Auditorium hotel at 10:30 o'clock this morning. The invocation is to be delivered by the invocation and he will be followed by Edward E. Gore, who will welcome the delegates on behalf of the Association of Commerce.

DAILY JOURNAL CELEBRATES ITS 75TH BIRTHDAY

Jubilee Edition Gives
High Lights of City
History.

The Chicago Daily Journal celebrated its seventy-fifth birthday yesterday by issuing a special ninety page "diamond jubilee" edition. Founded in 1844, during President Tyler's administration, the journal has lived to witness the greatest events in the history of the world's progress.

A general review of the last seventy-five years in Chicago's history, politics, art, drama, and society was contained in the special edition. Old photographs of the city, sketches drawn before the civil war, and the fire were added features.

Oldest of Local Papers.
In an editorial recounting the experiences of the Journal and other Chicago papers was the following:

"Of the Journal's present contemporaries, the oldest is the oldest, entering the field three years after the Journal. The other papers now existing in Chicago are comparatively modern. The Daily News dates from 1875, Evening Post from 1890, and the Hearst paper from 1900."

Cables and telegrams of congratulations on the seventy-fifth anniversary of the paper were received from President Wilson, Gen. Pershing, Gen. March, governors of practically every state and newspapers throughout the country. Internationally famed actors of the stage and film added their congratulations.

civil, and Spanish-American war days, of the invention and progress of the automobile and airplane, telegraphic telephone, and reviews of Chicago's and Illinois' parts in the great war formed an important part of the "makeup."

Early Days in City.
"The Chicago postoffice in 1848 stood on Clark street, just north of the Sherman house," related one "feature." "It had a single delivery window, about a foot square. The whole city could see the flag flying from the top of the hotel when the mail steamer from the other side of the lake was delayed."

"People knew just how long it would take the boat to reach its dock and for the mail to be distributed. Before the window opened a long line would be formed, like a line at a theater box office, often reaching far into the street."

"The mails came by steamer from St. Joe or New Buffalo, or by stage until 1852, when the first railway train came in from the east."

John C. Eastman has been editor of the Journal since 1902.

KEEP PREPARED TO AVOID WAR, WOOD'S ADVICE

Americans were warned by Gen. Leonard Wood last night to beware of the war, what would have happened. "We might as well admit it. We have simply been lucky. We have been lucky in all our wars. I can admit that when our men were on the fighting line there was not a single piece of American make with the artillery. We might have gone through the war with far less cost in lives and honor if we had been ready."

"Now that the war is over, we must stand shoulder to shoulder and must not listen to anything that will feed dissension. Unless the allies stand together, the boche has won the war."

"I think the time has come when we should have only one language in our grade schools, and that is the language of the Declaration of Independence."

Ivan O. Ackley, president of the board, acted as toastmaster and former presidents of the board were the guests of honor.

WOOD, GOODRICH BOOMED TO HEAD G. O. P. TICKET

Washington, D. C., April 22.—[Special.]—The presidential boom factory here today turned out this ticket for the Republican party next year:

For president—Gen. Leonard Wood. For vice president—Gov. James P. Goodrich of Indiana.

At the same time the news reached Washington that the presidential boom ticket of James E. Watson of Indiana had collapsed. It probably will enter the senate race again.

Back Senator Sutherland.

New York, April 22.—The organization in New Castle, Pa., of the "Sutherland alliance" for the purpose of promoting the candidacy of United States Senator Howard Sutherland of West Virginia for president of the United States on the Republican ticket, was announced here today by Bert F. Kline, editor of the New Castle Herald and one of the organizers of the alliance.

$1,451 DIVIDEND PAID ON $6 A DAY OIL STRIKE

State Officials Get Light on Finances of $500,000 Concern.

Speaking by and large, a pleasant use was had by all, except possibly Mr. Samuel Brownstein, secretary of the Southern Oklahoma Oil and Development company.

At least the executive from the department of justice, who visited the offices of the company yesterday and found Mr. Brownstein there, professed to have enjoyed himself, while Assistant Attorney General R. S. Pruitt, to whose office Mr. Brownstein was escorted, likewise said he'd been entertained.

Return $6 a Day.

For Mr. Brownstein explained that the $6,000 corporation's wells in Oklahoma were yielding, at the rate of three barrels a day, roughly, $6 worth, a day, and he's record for the oil timber financiers, with whom Mr. Pruitt has much to do.

Nevertheless, the assistant attorney general found the corporation had been able to declare a dividend of $1,451.60 on the $105,790 in stock outstanding. Another question presented itself, however, in that connection, since between $3,500 and $4,000 would have been received, according to Mr. Pruitt, compared to the rounds.

"I have not ascertained as yet," he said, "who received the dividend and who did not."

Neither, Mr. Pruitt declared, was he able to find the secretary of state's serial number on the literature of the company, which would indicate its inspection in official quarters. On the other hand, the company's bank book, which Mr. Brownstein consented to bring along, revealed in flourishing characters, with deposits ranging from $200 to $1,000 a day.

Mr. Brownstein volunteered the additional information that one expert salesman reaped commissions of $200 a week.

Mr. Pruitt declared he thought this marked further inquiry.

His associates in the oil venture, Mr. Brownstein said, were Max Krausman, president, and M. Markowitz, treasurer.

TENNESSEE LAST OF BIG BATTLESHIPS TO GET WINE BATH

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.—Announcement was made at the navy department today that the superdreadnaught Tennessee, now under construction at the New York navy yard on Secretary Roosevelt's orders, will be launched on July 1. Acting Secretary Roosevelt said, however, that the question of the beverage to be used at future christenings had not yet been considered by the department.

Construction of the Tennessee was begun nearly two years after the world war started and many of the designs of the ship were embodied in her design, special attention having been given to protection against torpedo attack. The ship is 624 feet long over all and will have a full load displacement of about 34,000 tons. Her main battery will be twelve 14 inch 50 caliber guns and two 21 inch submerged torpedo tubes. Electrically driven engines are designed to give the vessel a speed of twenty-one knots an hour.

Walter Strand came to this country from Norway nine years ago. He worked on a farm till he saved $1,000 and then came to Chicago from Sydenham, Ill., to buy a steamer ticket home.

Yesterday he was eating in a restaurant at North and California avenues. He noticed a man weeping. He learned from the man that his father, "a wealthy Mexican oil magnate," had just died and that he needed $500 to get down to Mexico to claim his heritage.

"No, no," said the tearful man. "Take this money to the Humboldt State bank and deposit it. If I need it I'll call for it." Walter took the package and went to the bank. When he opened it he found waste paper.

800,000 HOLES IN CITY STREETS, MITCHELL SAYS

City Council's Demand to Approve Each Job Declared Cause.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.
Superintendent of Streets Mitchell estimates there are more than 800,000 holes in Chicago pavements needing repair—and on this work there is practically nothing doing.

It is not Mitchell's fault. The city council is to blame.

It waited until April 2 to appropriate the money to repair the streets. At the same time it decreed no street could be repaired without its approval. Immediately thereafter the council adjourned without approving any street repairs.

Mitchell said yesterday he could have repaired streets nearly every day this month, but April will be gone before the aldermen get into action on this subject.

On asphalt streets alone, Mitchell reckons, he could have eliminated 25,000 holes this month, and on other pavements could have done a proportionate amount of work. This money is in a special fund and legally is not supposed to be used for any purpose other than the repair of pavements, so that the appropriation could have been made two or three or four months ago. But it wasn't, and each bump the rider gets has to charge up to the aldermen.

Need Unusually Pressing.

The need of repairs this year is probably more pressing than usual: The use of materials has increased so much that the money originally intended for the repair of pavements has been used for other purposes. According to the city auditor, Michael McGovern paid out of the vehicle tax fund. McGovern had the contract to repair streets in the notorious unbalanced bid scheme eight or nine years ago.

To pay his bill with interest, $129,855 was taken out of the fund. Mitchell protested and declined to sign the voucher. But the city council ordered the payment made.

In addition the subways have not been repaired in five years. There are all around 1,000 of them. Nearly all are paved and a large percentage are in bad shape.

For these reasons, as well as giving the public the service it pays a special tax to obtain, Mitchell says he was and is anxious to get the pavements in shape as soon as possible. On his own account he has been repairing part of East Madison street as a through highway which, in spots, was in bad condition. Otherwise no repair work is being done.

Three Plants Shut Down.

The city has three asphalt plants with a capacity of 4,000 square yards per day. One is at Wilson and Cicero avenues, another at Ashland avenue and Fifteenth place, and the third at Nineteenth and Paulina.

All three are ready, in the opinion of the street bureau, to start on an hour notice, but the council has said $75,000 of the foregoing item (vehicle tax budget) shall not be expended, except upon specific order of the city council, for the repair of roads.

This comes about through a protest of the Chicago Motor club. Frank Childs, attorney for the organization, charged before the council finance committee that too much of the vehicle tax was being spent for other than street repairs. According to the city auditor, McGovern spent $1,277,823 on the repair of streets last year, but that only $1,043,380 was expended by the bureau of streets.

The city clerk got some of the amount,

the city collector got much more, the police department another slice, the bureau of sewers a chunk, and the bureau of engineering a large piece.

Holes Getting Bigger.

"Of course it is impossible to give an accurate estimate of the size of the holes," said the bureau chief, "but I think they are not averaging over a square yard each. We repaired 789,953 yards last year and I believe that there were at least that many holes. It is a certainty there are more holes now than then."

"It is to the advantage of the city to keep as close after the holes as possible," said Childs. "That is the reason less material is used."

Years ago the vehicle tax was expended in each ward in proportion to the amount collected in each. Fifteen per cent was spent wherever the commissioners of public works in his discretion decided. The remaining 85 per cent was spent in the ward in which it was collected. Ald. Toman wants that system revived.

Keep Looking Young

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—do this you must watch your liver and kidneys, there's a need of having a well-tempered system of glands under your eyes, pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes, a lack of spirit, a lack of energy, a lack of strength, a lack of all the strength of life. All of these are made up of fourteen sections, about seventy-five miles in length. Seven sections of this have been completed and work is now proceeding on two other trunk lines—one from Chicago to Rock Island and another from Chicago to St. Louis by way of Danville.

According to plans submitted to the federal bureau, Illinois plans to construct 5,000 miles of hard surfaced roads and to raise at least $6,000,000 by license fees annually for their upkeep.

M'CORMICK MAY LEAD COUNCIL'S REFORM EFFORT

Talk of Change in Committee on Efficiency and Economy.

By JOHN SPELLMAN.

S. Petersburg, Fla., April 22.—(Special)—Ald. A. A. McCormick, Republican, may be made chairman of the new city council committee on efficiency, economy, and rehabilitation, which will be set up. This will be the last for the summer or a series of professional shows which have been secured for the soldiers and sailors by the Stage Women's War Relief and given under the auspices of the War Camp Community service.

There will be a professional vaudeville for men in uniform at the Khaki and Blue club Sunday afternoon, April 27, at 2:30 o'clock. Stars from the loop theaters will be on hand. This will be the last for the summer or a series of professional shows which have been secured for the soldiers and sailors by the Stage Women's War Relief and given under the auspices of the War Camp Community service.

Want to see—Asia, the Philippines, Panama, Hawaii, or China? Come to 230 East Ohio street, the office of Col. L. D. Wildman, department signal officer, and enlist in the radio service. Clerks, stenographers, engineers, Morse code telegraphers are needed, and applicants have opportunity to see the world.

Eaton, John Burns, Guy Guernsey, and O. H. Olsen, Republicans.

Entertained by St. Petersburg.

The party was the guests this afternoon of Mayor Lang and the city commissioners of St. Petersburg. A dinner was given at a country place. The Chicagoans said the local officials were the "greatest bunch of boosters in Florida." All that they asked was that a good word be said for St. Petersburg's hospitality.

The slatemakers will begin their "elimination" task at tomorrow's session. The slate ought to be completed tomorrow or the next day.

The Democrats on the slatemaking body will not agree to the post for Ald. McCormick unless Ald. Watson gives up the compensation committee to Kostner. It is understood Ald. Watson seriously considers agreeing to this change.

LOWDEN REVENGE REFORM BILL WINS A VICTORY

House Body Approves the Measure; Safeguard
Waterway Plan.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.
Springfield, Ill., April 22.—[Special.]
Gov. Lowden's revenue reform bill won a victory this afternoon when the report of the subcommittee of the house revenue committee approved the administration measure.

It now seems probable that the house revenue committee, of which Representative Young of South Chicago is chairman, will report the governor's bill favorable to the administration.

Administration insights are that the backbone of the opposition toward enactment of the bill eliminating the state board of equalization has been broken. Inside information suggests that the present membership of the state board is divided almost 50-50, upon the position of its own administration. It will not be surprising, now, if Gov. Lowden will have his own way on the only remaining contested issue of major importance before the legislature.

Future Up to Chicago.

As has been indicated before the senate, the Chicago bill is to depend entirely upon the case that can be made at Springfield by the Chicago city administration and the interested nonpartisan bodies.

The administration waterways bill was recalled to second reading in the senate this morning by Senator Barr of the women's rights.

The McCabe free textbook bill went to the senate.

The state adopted the resolutions for a free Ireland, and for the return of Palestine to the Jews.

An effort is to be made tomorrow to secure a favorable report from the senate committee on the women's eight hour bill.

MAUDE SAUNDERS DIES AS POSSE HUNTS SOLDIER

Love Tragedy in Life of New Boston Girl Told
by Sister.

By E. J. DOHERTY.
New Boston, Ill., April 22.—[Special.]—Maude Saunders died this afternoon in the hospital at Galesburg. Her brother George and her sweetheart, Carl Cooper, were with her when the end came.

She died without regaining consciousness, after being beaten until unconscious some time Sunday evening. She was found lying near the railway track early yesterday morning.

She had last been seen with Lee Landers, former artillery man, who came home from France three weeks ago.

Posse Hunt for Soldier.

Posse numbering and numerous posse are still looking for Landers. It is rumored today that he had taken a ride at Monmouth and was being secreted in fear of mob violence, but this was denied by the authorities.

Landers is the biggest man in Mercer county. He is 6 feet 3 inches tall and as wide as 200. His fists are like the size of small trees. He killed the girl it is charged, because she did not marry him.

Maude's body will be brought back to New Boston tomorrow for burial. Maude's people weeps but little. Their sorrow is tempered.

"She has come to the end of all her troubles," said Minnie, her twin sister, "and she had her fill of them."

Born in New Boston.

Maude and Minnie were born twenty-three years ago. New Boston is a pretty, with a nod and a smile and a curl "Howdy." All were puzzled to tell the girls apart.

All Mercer county watched them grow, and they were as much alike as two roses on the same bush.

Merion county is a country of rolling green hills, a paradise of greens and blues, and rare yellow blossoms, where the sun is always smiling.

The twins loved the town and its surroundings and until yesterday, when they took Maude to Galesburg, neither had left it, so far as is recalled.

Sister Tells of Tragedy.

"Our folks live out in the country," Minnie said, "about five miles out of New Boston, and we traveled back and forth living with them or with my brother, Mel, in New Boston. We were so happy; everything is so beautiful here. That is, we were happy until Maude met a man who used to live here, but he is in Davenport, Ia., now, and he has five there and they are well to do."

"Maude loved him. And he said he loved her, and promised to marry her. He didn't. He went away."

"When her baby, Frances, was born, Maude burned all this man's letters and his pictures. She tried to forget him, and to work for the baby."

"She was a good girl, but in all the country, had a harsh word for her. Never was a harsh word said to her by my mother or father or our brothers. Nor did we ever say a harsh word against the man. We were not taught to hold ill feelings."

All Love the Baby.

"We called the baby Frances, and we are all in love with her."

"My baby," Maude called it, and she carried it wherever she went.

"One time when Maude was feeling bad, she asked me if I would care to take her out some time. I said I would be honored to keep her forever, and Maude said: 'You may have the opportunity before you think.'

"Sometimes when Maude thought she was all alone I caught her crying. But Carl Cooper of Muscatine came into her life, and I think she grew to love him."

"Then came Lee Landers. He came about four years ago, and the first girl he met was Maude. She tried to avoid him, but he wouldn't. He followed her everywhere. He knew all about Carl Cooper, but he didn't care. He was determined to marry Maude, and that was all there was to it."

Posse With Landers Away.

"There was peace in our family, while Lee Landers was in our family, and when he came back the trouble was over again. Lee spoke of Carl as a soldier because he had been in the second draft and hadn't enlisted. He swore no soldier would take her if he did. Maude told me all about it."

"But Maude did not love him. And she would not marry him. She told me many times. And when we began to break among the boys the police didn't like that could take her home. Saturday night he said he was going to stay in Mercer county."

"Yes," Minnie said, "it's a terrible war, but God knows best. Carl is here, and that is the end of the love story."

Maude reached into the mail box and found a letter. It was from her husband, Martin Allison of the 25th Cavalry in France. She tore it open and read it. And then they misted. It was not to her the letter was sent, but to her twin, Martin. Martin had the letter, and he was writing to say that soon he was coming home. But that's the beginning of a new chapter in another love story.

POLICE GUNS END BATTLE OF RACES ON SOUTH SIDE

One Colored Man Shot, Others Seized After Riot Call.

Fifty policemen were posted on emergency duty last night on the south side after quelling a series of sanguine skirmishes between white and colored residents, in which brickbats, clubs, and bullets were used prominently.

One colored man lies at the point of death in the bridewell hospital, the result of a fight with an officer. His companion is under arrest, and the police are continuing a searching search of the district for concealed weapons.

Racial feeling, which the police say, has been gaining in intensity for some time, cropped out at 6 o'clock, when a number of white boys, bicycling in Vincennes, near Forty-second street, were showered with bricks from the roof of a four story building.

The bicyclists decided to attack in a body. They had been told by friends of both white and colored factions had learned of the brick incident, and when the boys moved into battle they found themselves reinforced by fathers, mothers, brothers, and sisters.

No man's land was in the general vicinity of Vincennes and St. Lawrence avenue, Fortieth street, a district which recently has been settled by colored persons. The combatants used fists, clubs, and rocks at the start, but soon revolver began to fire from doorways and windows.

Riot Call Sound.

Then some one sounded a riot call, and four patrol wagons of police were sent over from the Hyde Park and Fifteenth street stations. Before they arrived a number of stirring incidents occurred. Policeman George A. Graham, off duty, left his home, at 442 East Fortieth street, to investigate the shooting. He had not been home since the front stoop from a fusillade from the roof of a four story building.

Policeman George A. Graham, off duty, left his home, at 442 East Fortieth street, to investigate the shooting. He had not been home since the front stoop from a fusillade from the roof of a four story building.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

St. Louis, Mo., April 22.—Under ideal conditions the White Sox went through their final practice yesterday, to be on the grounds of the St. Louis National team while their antagonists, the Browns, were getting their finishing touches on the American League park. Rainy weather gave way to sunshine in the morning and, although the grounds were somewhat heavy, the players were able to get a good working in this afternoon.Williams has been picked as the choice for the initial clash by Manager Gleason, with Cicotte as an alternative. The dope is all in favor of Williams starting the season, because of the superstitious bug harbored by Cicotte, who asserts he never yet has pitched the opening game of a season without encountering seven years of hard luck. On that account Boss Gleason probably will start Williams, as the only other reliable on his slab
staff.

Murphy Clubs.

Mike Murphy reported to the White Sox manager this morning when they arrived here, and worked out in today's practice, but is not considered ripe for championship duty in spite of the fact that he has hard in the league. Not until he has had a chance to look at real pitching will Mike be entitled to consideration as a regular.In the afternoon the automobile of Commerce as hosts.

thoroughly organized with vice

A. A. Clubs to Open Season

Today with Rosy Outlook

American association clubs will open the baseball season today with propects brighter than the league has had since the world war started in 1914. Changes in all the clubs have left even the most hardy skeptics as to the probability of a win in the pennant race. With almost every club seeming to have a chance interest is bound to be sustained as never before.Clubs of the eastern end of the circuit are given the opening date, Kansas City at Toledo, St. Paul at Indianapolis, and Milwaukee at Louisville. The measure was postponed one week.The measure was drawn up under the provisions of a legislative bill signed by Gov. Smith last week, giving municipalities of the state power to decide whether Sunday baseball shall be played in the communities.Indoor Nines Decide

WHY, GIRLS!

Northwestern Co-eds Refuse to Turn Out for Class Baseball Team.THE sporting world may well be astounded this April morning to learn that there will be no
Northwestern co-ed baseball team this spring. After two weeks of futile endeavor Misses Edith Baker and Nancy Knight yesterday decided it was impossible to recruit and organize a class nines because the girls just wouldn't show up for practice.
They appear at the compulsory

The White Sox went out this p.m.
to practice on the Cardinals' grounds, though I told Mr. Gleason that he was making a mistake as they get so few recruits when he goes to see how his recruits would behave before the hospital here in St. Louis as I hear they was a flock of good right handed pitchers from the Cardinals run into street car the other day and got wrecked.""The report is erroneous," said Manager Gleason, pulling my nose. "Those pitchers run into George Sisler."Well, I was tired of trying to interview these rough managers so I sought out Jimmy Burke as they say. So I asked him what he going to pitch tomorrow. He said, "It would be Davenport so I said, "Lie down." And he didn't have a come back."But that reminds me of a story about Davenport. It seems that when he returned from the hospital he couldn't pitch the fifteenth of June because he had to hot weather. So Jimmy said, "All right, go home and stay till the fifteenth of June and your salary will start then."I thought to myself, "I will go to

If you have a hankering to see this "Eternal Magdalene" for "Admission Only," you can go and see it. But don't do it "for your daughter's sake" as the ads assure you, or because there's going to be any "new and brilliant light upon the world's oldest problem"—also promised by the ads—dispensed for you. Remember that, excepting in the rare instances when actors aren't working for the good of your soul, or to scatter little rays of sunshine. And when a picture comes out titled like the one under consideration, you can be sure that the suggestion prompting it has more to do with limousines than love.

With the exception of several exhibitions of good acting, "The Eternal Magdalene" may be said to be composed of blab. The idea is to treat the sinner woman kindly, for her ranks are the same as those of the rest of these who are your own home, day after day.

The picture takes a swat at the Billy Sunday method of dealing with vice—the "bawling out" method—and the business man who is the power behind a number of things in the drama is Maxine Elliott, who, in flowing robes, and as the Magdalene of Biblical days, melts all heart of stone to warm butter consistency. Awaking from his dream, he forgives his daughter, whom he had ordered from home—and it turns out that, after all, she had been secretly married to the man.

You didn't know Miss Elliott was in pictures now? Neither did I. As I am informed, however, that "The Eternal Magdalene" has never been released, I can assure you that it is.

Don't be too surprised, however, that there's something salacious about the film. It's really mild. Tg's "Adults Only" sign is just a "come-on." The policeman who sat next me went to sleep.

A Friend in Need—Sally Joy Brown

I want to be the medium through which the friend in need and the friend in need may be brought together. May it be you have some unused duplicates which you would like to give away? I will make some less fortunate one happy, and you would gladly give it to me if you knew how to do so. I am in急切 need of a stamp. The only two happy to be of service to you. Please write on one side of the paper.

When you write, please mail a stamped, addressed envelope should accompany the request. Please do not pay postage on the Tribune, but write for the expense of the applicant and send direct.

Stamps to Exchange.
I am an invalid with the stamp collecting hobby to help pass the time. If any of your readers collect stamps and have some duplicates, would you be so kind as to pass my name on to them as desiring to trade some of my duplicates for some of theirs?

"H. A."

To those having stamp collections I present the invalid's request and ask if they have any duplicates that they will please exchange with him.

Rose Jar Formula.
"Could you please tell me how to make a rose jar? I have about a quart of dried rose leaves and a beautiful jar and would love to fill it. I have read many formulas for salted down or fresh roses and wondered if there was one for dried ones."

"M. T."

Who can help to fill the beautiful rose jar by furnishing M. T. with the desired formula?

From Beer to Ice Cream.

Probably nine-tenths of the failure in bread making, cake making, sauce making, mashed potato making, etc., are due to one thing—careless mixing or blending of the ingredients.

In a recent article on the subject of breweries changing to the manufacture of ice cream James H. Collins tells how fortunate it is to have the "brewmaster" turn his attention to ice cream making. He says:

"When the brewmaster turns from beer to ice cream he finds a field in which he can distinguish himself. The brewmaster is an all around able citizen economically, and when you know a little about his training and ability you will want to keep him in the community, no matter how dry things get."

"First of all, he is a chemist and therefore accustomed to working with exact quantities of ingredients. Then he is an expert in fermentation and other delicate processes of less invisible transformations that his products undergo in processes. Dirt has always been the brewmaster's enemy."

And the brewmaster, because of his experience and knowledge of bacteria, can turn out a more uniform and superior quality of ice cream than has ever been made, especially aided by a recent invention called a homogenizer.

Translating," Mr. Collins, "ice cream made without this device lacks intimate blending of its ingredients."

The homogenizer takes the unfrozen mixture of cream, milk, milk powder, butter, gelatin, flavoring, fresh fruit, and other ingredients and holds them under high pressure, 1,000 to 3,000 pounds, after which they are not only intimately blended but are practically inseparable. A mixture of distilled water, skim milk powder, and unsalted butter put through this machine is so thoroughly blended that it cannot be detected by the taste.

Both argued that full suffrage for the women of the United States is the only way of proving the democracy of the United States. The petitions are to be distributed by the thousand throughout the state preparation for the constitutional convention, where it is hoped a suffrage plank will be inserted.

Real Love Stories

Supposed to Be Engaged.

Do you know a real love story—one that is stranger than fiction? It is the idea that is wanted. No attention will be paid to any story that is not published. No money will be paid for every story published. No manuscript will be returned. Address Doris Blake, "The Tribune," Chicago.

Seen in a Dream.

A good friend of mine was fired by the example of Jack London, as set forth in his books, and decided to come in his books, and decided to come in the world of literature. He enlisted in the army. During this time I wrote to him every day and sent him anything he needed or asked for, including that time his brother wrote to me asking for a place to live.

"Well, now he has been home for three weeks. The first few days he was very attentive to me, but now for a week I have not heard a word from him. He is not sick, because his brother is here, and he is not dead, because he is fine and working every day.

"Now, Miss Blake, can you tell me what I should do, as I love this boy and cannot give him up? We are supposed to be engaged."

Perhaps brother has told him that he is the favorite one now. Or perhaps it is just another of many instances that have been reported to me concerning the love of the girl's mother and father, if it is the latter case, then isn't anything one can do but accept it as a turn of the wheel of fate—and, for all you know, for your good. It is hard to have the affections of a sweetheart prove this way, but there is always the consolation that you are not the only one who has experienced a change like this, and also that time will doubtless offer you a better reward if you prove yourself to be a "good sport" when things don't go your way.

Jean has been promised a kitten by one of the neighbors and after receiving the comment of her mother, she is back with her in the kitchen.

The kitten was empty handed. Her father asked her where the kitten was and she replied: "O, I can't have it for awhile. It just came out of the hatch."

Our girl is proud of the fact that she goes to kindergarten and is always glad to instruct her smaller sister in the various plays she has learned at school. When it came to teaching the tot to do one of the dances, however, her patience was sorely tried and finally she said to her: "Well, dear, that isn't the way to do it; but you're cute anyway."

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

LAZY BONES: WORK OF SOME kind is the best exercise for the mind and happiness of every one, since it necessitates an objective instead of a subjective attitude of mind. It is psychological that if you have a toothache or a headache you suffer less if you are kept busy and any one will testify that she suffers much less from the intense heat of summer if she is busily employed. Yes, I could give you a lot of other reasons, too, why you should do work of some kind.

SAM: CANNOT DO ANYTHING but sit and read. Twas ever thus. Peter the Great wrote that the robes are so tightly stretched over the body that the ladies can scarcely breathe in them, often breaking the girdle in order to make their bodies smaller. Just leave them alone and they will stretch a balance after a bit. But, by the way, why not inaugurate a campaign against the extremely tight suited boulevardier. He's worse as a decorum, don't you think?

Parish Club Dance.

The Parish club of the Immaculate Conception church will give a dance to-night at the Fairway hotel, 216 Lincoln Park, for the wife of returning soldiers of the parish. Miss Gertrude Casey and Patrick Ryan will lead the grand march.

Mrs. W. M. Burton's Bridge Party Nets Passavant $1,000

There were tables in every nook and corner of Mrs. Frederick D. Countiss' beautiful residence at 1524 Lake Shore drive yesterday afternoon for the bridge party given by Mrs. William M. Burton for the benefit of the Passavant Memorial hospital. In all there were about sixty tables. The proceeds, which amounted to nearly $1,000, will go toward Mrs. Burton's $10,000 pledge to the building fund. In the absence of Mrs. Countiss, who is in mourning for her husband's sister, Mrs. Burton and Mrs. George W. Dixon and Mrs. Charles S. Packer acted as hostesses. Among the players were:

MESDAMES—William Yager, Katherine Anna, William F. Burrows, James B. Forgan Jr., Leslie Wheeler, John D. Black, Charles Pope, John W. Gary, Alfred T. Martin, Edward A. Leigh, Walter F. Faithorpe, Edward R. Littigton, Frank Townley, Frank Townley, Thomas R. Lyon, Aliden B. Swift, William M. Baxter, George Hallbeck Taylor, Fred Butler, Jerome P. V. Kelley, Matthew Watson, Carlton J. Holziger, P. Braun.

THE MISSES—Williamson, Henrietta Wurtz, Virginia Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. McPherson and children have returned to Chicago from New York City and are with Mrs. McPherson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. West, of 68 East Division street. Mr. and Mrs. McPherson went east some weeks ago, expecting to sail for Paris, where Mr. McPherson was returning to go into business. Difficulty in procuring passports caused them to change their plans and they will remain in America for several months or until conditions are less chaotic overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dow Harvey arrived yesterday to spend a few days in Chicago en route to Washington. Mr. Harvey recently returned from overseas. Mrs. Harvey spent the winter in California with her mother, Mrs. Lucy M. Flower. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey will make their home in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Nichols Jr. and son of 242 East Walton place will open their residence in Lake Forest May 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Fox of 20 East Grandview will move today to the summer in Wheaton which they have taken for the summer.

Miss Louise Thorne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Thorne of 1130 Lake Shore drive, returned yesterday from a spring visit in Aiken, S. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. Viles of 1433 North State Parkway will arrive today from Atlantic City, where they spent a week. Mr. and Mrs. Viles will go to Lake Forest in early June, having taken one of the Clayton Mark houses there for the summer.

Actors are more renowned in New York than elsewhere in America; they live there and their vocation is a greater and more essential part of the daily life than it is in the suburban centers. Irene Rich, for example, has Hamlet, therefore in New York as much inspired by Mr. Hampden as by the combination, and more than by the play. The audiences at the Princess are drawn thither only by "Hamlet." Mr. Hampden means nothing in their lives, and so the attendance is discouraging.

Those who do attend, however, see a new and refreshing Dame. All of them, of course, are committed to their favorite actor in the role, and on their memorized and their judgment of Mr. Hampden's interpretation. They recall Mr. Mantell's antimaterialistic and cynical—so accurate and as little as a metronome—the drum major of the Hamlets. Or Mr. Sothern's bored and patronizing prince, wishing that the show was over and that he and Julia could go home. Mr. Benson's ludicrous impetuities were admired by many, and Walker Whiteside's an ink man of declamatory gloom from Butte.

One of the most interesting events of this week will be the illustrated lecture on John Singleton Copley by Frank W. Copley, to be given this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the picture gallery of the late Mrs. Potter Palmer's residence, 1350 Lake Shore drive. The lecture is being given for the benefit of Thomas Whittemore's work among the refugees in Russia.

Mr. Whittemore, who spoke in Chicago on the occasion of that episode, is now in Russia doing relief work.

Mrs. Arthur Meeker is in charge of the affair, and assisting her are Mrs. Arthur Ryerson, Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mrs. Charles H. Sims and small son of Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Ayres Boal and children of Winnetka have returned from a brief stay at French Lick Springs.

Mr. Thomas S. Chalmers, who returned last week from the south, where he made a tour of vacation, returning from overseas, left on Monday with his father, William J. Chalmers of 1100 Lake Shore drive, for a two weeks' stay at Hot Springs, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer L. Dixon of 40 East Erie street have returned from a brief sojourn at French Lick Springs.

William J. Brown of 731 Euclid ave. has returned from Asheville, N. C., much improved in health. Miss Isabel Bryson, who accompanied him to Asheville, is visiting relatives in Charleson, S. C., and will arrive home next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand W. Peck of 1628 Michigan avenue have as their guest their daughter and grandson, Mrs. Charles H. Sims and small son of Dayton, Ohio.

The Shame of America

Four million American-born children never learned to read and write

What kind of an education is YOUR child getting?

Do you know that—

500,000 of our public school teachers are only 19 years old? 50,000 of them are without high school education?

The salary of a graduate teacher is no more than that of a milliner's apprentice while she is learning her trade?

The minimum wage for a teacher in New York City is $20 less than the minimum wage of a city stableman?

Is America to lag behind England and France?

Do you realize that America is behind England in the education of its children—behind France—behind Sweden? That educationally we are becoming a second-class power?

While these countries are lengthening the school age, thousands of our children under 14 are being thrown into the mills and factories. At the very moment when our Supreme Court was deciding that the Federal Government could not act to prevent child labor, England was totally prohibiting the employment in industry of all children of school age.

America is rich enough to give its children as good an education as any nation in the world. And yet—

Not only are thousands upon thousands of American children growing up illiterate—blind to every kind of print or writing—

But—

The great bulk of American children in school right now—today—are getting an education that is miserably inadequate.

Are 20 million mothers sleeping?

Are America's twenty million mothers asleep? Who is responsible for the children of the country if not the mothers of the country?

Rheta Childe Dorr, in her stirring article, "The Shame of America" sounds the clarion call to every mother, every father, every educator in the country. She tears the veil aside and reveals the farce of our educational system that does not educate. She goes further than mere criticism. She shows the remedy.

Read this great constructive article in the May number of Pictorial Review.

Hundreds of our grown-up soldiers were illiterate and had to be taught their letters behind the battle-line.

Do you know that—

For years there have been country schools throughout the West in which the English language was barred out?

Many of our public school teachers can hardly make themselves understood in English.

Thousands of teachers are leaving the schools to enter other professions?

In New York City alone 32,097 children of school age are receiving no instruction?

Does Every Woman Want a Master?

IS IT true that most women like to be bossed by a man? That they don't want to be taken too seriously? That it flatters them to have a man order their lives for them, tell them what they should eat, wear, read, think and know? Or is a lot of this a tradition that has been made and kept up by romantic novelists and by the kind of men who like to bully their wives?

READ "A Fair Field in Sex" by ex-State Senator Helen Ring Robinson in this number of Pictorial Review. It is daring—stimulating—provocative. It will awaken self-questioning in every woman's mind—it is a witty challenge to every man. The first article in a delightful new series, "What the Women Want."

FIVE SPLENDID SHORT STORIES

Would you commit a crime to save a friend?

When it came to the test, how far would you go for your best friend? Lend him money—get him a job—stand by him when he is down-and-out, yes. But would you go out and commit a crime, if—well, read "A Double-Barreled Friendship" by Edward S. O'Reilly, and see what you would have done in this man's place.

Love-making based on efficiency methods

Blunderingly, with hopeless inefficiency, the average man makes love. But this man was an exception. Read how with brilliant business acumen he attacked the complex problems that every lover must face. "Pleasure and Business Mixed" is one of Clarence Budington Kelland's most delightful stories.

With the shadow of Flanders in his eyes

And his empty sleeve—he wasn't the same gay, splendid lad she had sent away to France. Life would never be the same again for either of them. And yet—wasn't that wonderful thing he brought back worth the price? This thrilling, moving story, "What They Brought Out," by Norma Patterson, will grip your heart. It is one of the really great stories that has come out of the war.

A girl doesn't have to be pretty

With her thin little face, her big wistful gray eyes, no one would have looked twice at her. And yet—doyou think life couldn't have thrilling, wonderful adventures in store for her? Read "Love's Labor" by Agnes Mary Brownell—one of those unexpected romances that lie in wait for people just around the corner.

What was the secret she hid from him?

The dancer on the beach, with her sea-blue eyes, her light, laughter-loving nature—what was the secret she was strong enough to hide, even while they were facing death together? Rosa Mundi is a wonderful picture of a woman, in the grip of a strong feeling. Ethel M. Dell has written here one of the finest love stories of the year.

Four Full-page Pictures in Full Colors

"The Fight in the Argonne Forest." Tangled underground as high as a man's head. Machine guns raining down fire from the tops of trees. It was a death trap—but our men pushed on. Here the Lost Battalion—cut off—held against overwhelming odds. Painted by Charles S. Chapman.

"The Charge at Sedan." Our boys in action—driving the Germans back with that dash and valor that turned the tide of war at Chateau - Thierry, and gave new hope to the Allies. Painted by J. Scott Williams.

All these pictures in full color and ready for framing are included in Pictorial Review for May.

Are You Getting Enough Out of Life?

YOU—the woman shut up in a little city apartment, nursing your babies and struggling with the high cost of living; you—the woman fighting for a livelihood; you—the woman smothered under wealth and conventional surroundings—do you feel that life is as interesting, as worth while, as full of freedom and opportunity as it should be?

How can you get more out of life? In a remarkable special article in the May Pictorial Review, Ida Clyde Clarke opens a great new horizon for American women.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—While President Wilson is abroad shaping world policies, his family has become in old fashioned row, of which General Burleson is the

A movement is on foot to have him from the cabinet—aided and abetted by Democrats, who blame the post office for the unpopularity of the administration. This has been in various ways, but mostly by the disastrous defeat of the congressional election.

Big Men Behind
The men behind the Burleson include some of the prominent members of the administration and closest advisers of the president. They have become also evidences of dissatisfaction with the inefficiency of the postal service. The Burleson regime, by produced by taking over and telephone lines, has greatly consolidated and of the systems, and advanced by Burleson's organized labor.
